

SPEAKING #5

Part 1: Interview (4-5 minutes)

Examiner: How interested are you in politics?

Examiner: In your country, do young people tend to be politically active?

Examiner: What are some of the major political issues that people are discussing in your country right now?

Examiner: How do you usually get information about political events and news?

Examiner: Have you ever participated in any political events or protests?

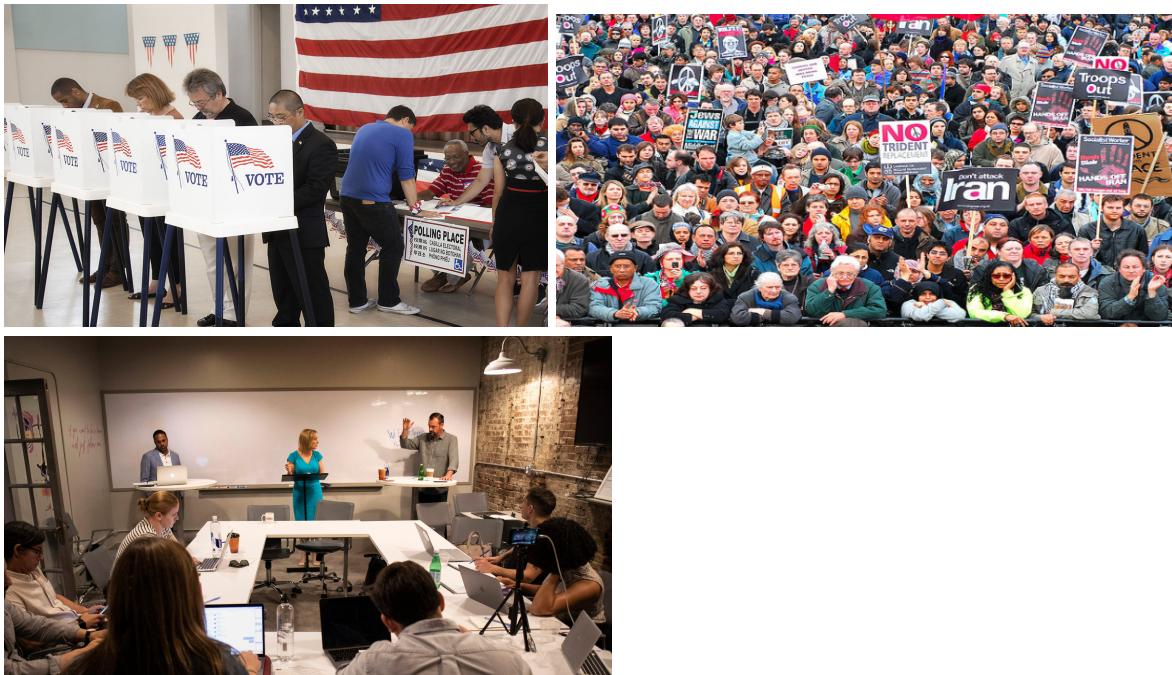

Part 2: Long Turn (1 minute preparation, 1-2 minutes speaking)

Examiner: In this part of the test, I'm going to give each of you three photographs related to traveling. I would like you to talk about your photographs on your own for about a minute and also answer a question about your partner's photographs.

(Candidate A) It's your turn first. Here are your photos. They show different political activities. Please compare and contrast both of these photographs and say why these activities might be related with politics and how these affect the people involved.

Why might these activities be related to politics?

How do these affect the people involved?

Examiner: Candidate B, do you think it's important for young people to have political role models? Why?

(Candidate B) It's your turn now. Your photographs show crucial places for politics. I would like you to compare and contrast two of the photographs and say what activities might be taken there and why those places might be so important.

What activities might be taken in these places?

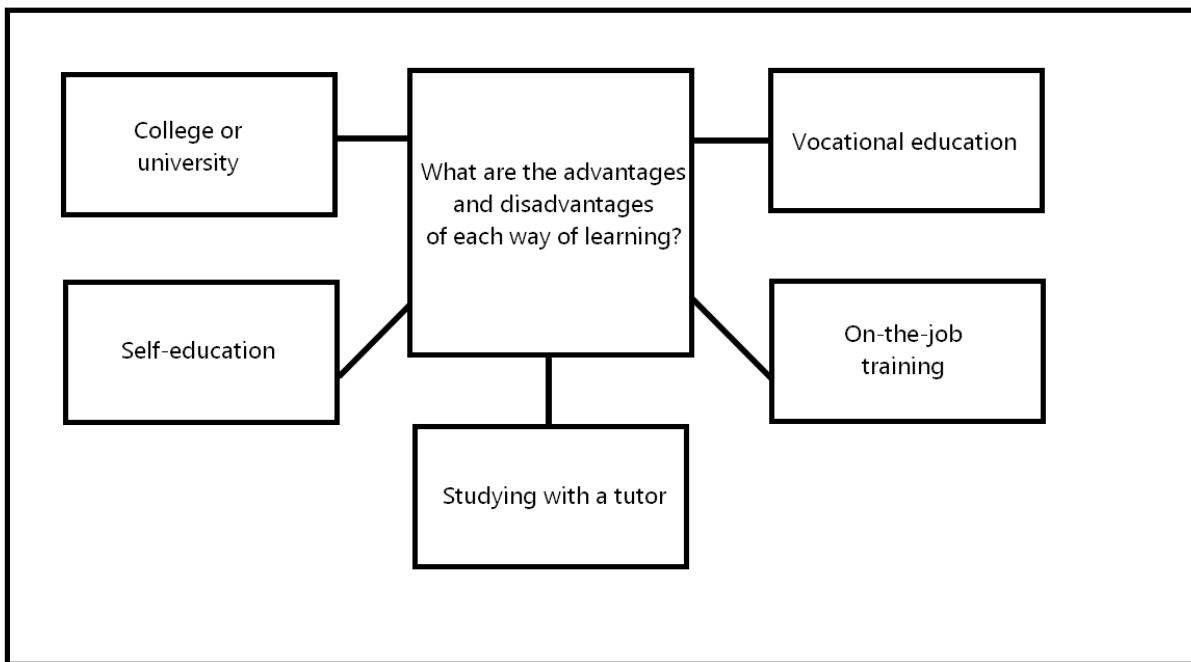

Why might these places be so important?

Examiner: (Candidate A) Which place have you visited or find most interesting visiting?
journeys?

Part 3: Collaborative Task (2-3 minutes)

Examiner: Now, I'd like both of you to discuss some political issues together. Here are some topics related to politics and government. Take a moment to look at them, and then discuss which ones you find the most important and why.

Part 4: Discussion (4-5 minutes)

Examiner: Let's talk about the role of social media in politics. How has social media influenced political discussions and movements in recent years?

(Candidate B/A): What do you think?

Examiner: Some people argue that social media has a negative impact on political discourse, as it can spread misinformation and polarize society. What are your thoughts on this?

Examiner: Do you believe that social media platforms should be regulated to control political content? Why or why not?

(Candidate B/A): Do you agree?

Examiner: How can young people be encouraged to participate more actively in politics in the digital age?

Examiner: Overall, do you think social media has a positive or negative impact on the political landscape? Explain your reasoning.
